	The following informal recommendation was made by the committee to the district's HR committee:  The SAC Planning and Budget Committee supports the district's initiative to begin hiring now in order to acquire good candidates. John Zarske will take that recommendation to the next HR committee meeting.
4. RSCCD Budget Familiarity Review	DISCUSSION/ COMMENTS	ACTIONS/ FOLLOW UPS
	The committee continued review the RSCCD budget practices. Members were provided two examples of department budgets, Administrative Services and Chemistry. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ The district bases the tentative budget for utilities and employee benefits on information received in February and March. This typically results in over-budgeting in those areas because early estimates tend to be worst case scenarios.</li> <li>○ Unspent monies in these budgets are transferred directly to the ending balance.</li> </ul> Some concerns were shared regarding the significant over budgeting: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Over budgeting in benefits vs. the loss of classified jobs</li> <li>• A mid-year assessment should be considered</li> <li>• Need to track the budget more precisely.</li> <li>• The need for better budgeting practices was noted in an effort toward building more concrete planning.</li> </ul> A discussion ensued regarding the difficulties and limitations the delayed state budget and deferred payments have had on the RSCCD. These circumstances created a cash flow problem using the district's $32 million ending balance to fund operations. The high percentage of costs within department budgets are in personnel (approx. 80 - 90%) leaving limited options for reductions outside of eliminating personnel. The importance of departments being aware of their budget was discussed.	FOLLOW UP  At the December 7 meeting, Andy Gonis will lead the committee discussion to determine the content of a committee position statement regarding the District's present reserve fund. FOLLOW UP  N. Fujimoto will forward the Fund 11 year to date document previewed by the committee to the deans to be disseminated to the department chairs.
