

SANTA ANA COLLEGE
Annual Faculty

2014
AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE

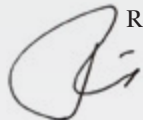

Dear Colleagues,

A college is only as good as its faculty. That statement is probably one that most people would agree with and assert as being self evident and obvious. I believe it is proven every day in practice as students in California are free to enroll in any community college in the state. The fact that Santa Ana College has a large and consistent enrollment speaks well of the quality of the faculty. That is, students in today's world "vote with their gas pedals" and the fact that so many choose to come to Santa Ana College speaks well of the positive experience students receive from their interactions with faculty.

Students at Santa Ana College are fortunate to have access to a faculty that is creative, dedicated, and involved. I consistently hear from students that what distinguishes Santa Ana College from other colleges is that the faculty and staff at SAC care about them. Students know when faculty care about them and when they are disinterested. I am proud that Santa Ana is known as a college where faculty cares about students and about their success. As a result, it is important to publicly recognize the individual achievements of faculty members. For Santa Ana College, faculty members who were the most accomplished in a number of specific categories are recognized each year through the Awards for Excellence process.

Congratulations to all of the faculty members who were selected this year for the 2014 Awards for Excellence! Your efforts are appreciated.

Respectfully,

Raúl Rodríguez, Ph.D.
Chancellor

Dear Faculty Colleagues,

The 2014 Distinguished Faculty Awards recognize peers that have demonstrated innovation, commitment to students and excellence in teaching. It is the highest honor given to faculty members at Santa Ana College. It is especially valued because it is a peer award.

As the President of Santa Ana College, I am humbled to call you colleagues. Santa Ana College's reputation for excellence is because of your pride, dedication and commitment to our students in the classroom. You demonstrate daily the passion to learn and succeed. We continue to be challenged to serve more students with fewer operational dollars as a result of the fiscal shortfall facing our state and our nation. I appreciate your resilience to serve our students all the more during this difficult time.

Thank you for your devotion to your field and your loyalty to our students. By ensuring student success, you make a difference!

As ever,

Erlinda J. Martinez, Ed.D.
President

Madeline A. Grant

Professor, International Business/Marketing/Entrepreneurship

Madeline was originally hired as an adjunct faculty member in the International Business/Marketing Department in 1987 and was hired full-time in 2001. In many ways, her work extends beyond the classroom. She helped write a U.S. Department of Education Business & International Education (BIE) grant and served on the Advisory Committee that was responsible for creating the globally recognized International Business program we have at SAC today. Madeline has co-directed two additional BIE grants totaling close to $400,000 which allowed us to participate in the creation of the SAC program and alignment with the Certified Global Business Professional Credential. She was a lead Faculty Fellow for the Kaleidoscope OER project which allowed her to collaborate with faculty across the country to create a dynamic Bus 100, Fundamentals of Business, class. Madeline developed the Pepsi Internship program which placed 12 interns; two of whom are still employed by Pepsi. She worked with Century High School to offer the Business and International Business classes on the high school campus. She hosts advisory committee meetings and works with the local business community to ensure that our programs align with employer needs. She has been instrumental in guiding the process to launch and develop the Entrepreneurship & Innovation program which was awarded the Career Technical Education (CTE) Program Award in 2010 and received the Impact Award from the National Association of Community College Entrepreneurs (NACCE). One of her recent successes has been the development of a collaborative certificate with the SAC Automotive Department; the Automotive Business Technology Certificate, which she recently defended at the Los Angeles Orange County Regional Consortia (LAOCRC). Because International Business is a hybrid program (academic and CTE), she continues to cultivate relationships with universities that are interested in developing articulation agreements. Each year, she has directed a CTEA grant project which has included infusion of technology into classes, update of work experience classes and development of internship/practical education programs.

Madeline has been the Global Business & Entrepreneurship Department Chair for the past 7 years. She has served SAC in a variety of other ways: as the Secretary/Treasurer of the Academic Senate for 2 years and she has recently been elected to serve another two-year term; she has attended many conferences; serves on College Council, the Faculty Awards Committee, the Distance Education Workgroup, the SLO/PAPR Workgroup, the Workforce Development Committee, the Centennial Celebration Planning Committee; she is the co-chair of Accreditation Standard IIIA and the faculty representative on the SAC Foundation Board. Madeline is also the State Senate Representative to California Academic Partnership Program (CAPP) and Co-chair of the Rules and Ethics subcommittee.

Madeline earned her bachelor's degree in International Relations with a minor in Business Administration from the University of San Diego and her MBA, with an emphasis in International Business, from Claremont Graduate Schools. She is a certified Global Business Professional and is a certified trainer for the Certified Global Business Professional Credential. She is a Member of Model United Nations, Phi Alpha Theta and Pi Sigma Alpha scholastic fraternities.

Madeline enjoys spending time with her husband of 20 years, Ronnie, spending time with family and friends, crafting, gardening and cooking. Madeline feels lucky to enjoy the career of her dreams and have the opportunity to pass that along to the next generation of international business professionals. She has had the privilege to have taught the graduates who are succeeding because of the opportunities they found at SAC.

“Life’s better with bubbles; especially when they are pink.”

Congratulations to Madeline for winning the 2014 Distinguished Faculty Award, her dedication to the teaching profession, contributions to SAC and to the Business world.

Jennie L. Beltrán

Adjunct Faculty, Santa Ana College Biology

Jennie has taught biology courses at Santa Ana College (SAC) for the past four years. She has taught a wide range of courses to both majors and non-majors: Fundamentals of Biology, Cellular & Molecular Biology, Animal Diversity & Ecology, and Physiology. Her courses are known to be challenging, engaging, and innovative. She builds and evolves her curriculum to help increase student success. She works hard to understand students' educational, emotional, financial, and social needs to better assist and support students, the biology department, and the SAC campus.

She is currently the advisor for Club Med and the Society for Advancement of Chicanos & Native Americans in Science (SACNAS) Club to build campus community, network, build professional skills, and to provide mentorship. She integrates career panels into her courses where panelists teach students about various career pathways, expose students to scientific research, and share their transfer story. To help her students build a "tool-box" of skills, Jennie embeds study skills and professional development into her curriculum as well as by providing workshops for a variety of events/programs at the SAC campus.

Jennie volunteers her time by being on panels for the PUENTE program, being a mentor for the STEM Scholars program, and through classroom visits at Middle College High School and other K-12 classrooms in and around the Santa Ana community. Jennie also enjoys teaching in non-traditional settings to expose the community to the beauty of biology, expose students to various educational pathways, and to teach parents how to better support their students.

What most people do not know about Jennie is that she became a biologist because her "mami" placed her in a Santa Ana inner-city science program called Kids Investigating and Discovering Science (KIDS) where she dissected and fell in love with sharks. Jennie was born and raised in Santa Ana and truly understands how valuable outreach and mentorship is to the Santa Ana community. She enjoys giving back to her community and loves to empower SAC students.

Adjunct Faculty Award

Colleen Lehman

Adjunct Faculty, School of Continuing Education
ESL and Citizenship

Colleen has been teaching both ESL and Citizenship for 9 years. Initially, she worked in the CASAS office. She soon realized, however, that she belonged in the classroom and pursued her TESL Certificate at UCI. After completing her TESL Certificate, she began teaching at CEC in both an off-site location and on the main campus. From the beginning, she has had an affinity for the students who attend classes in the community off-sites and the teachers who teach them. Through her work as a part-time faculty representative in the ESL Department, Colleen proposed a program that would help to identify and communicate the special issues within the community of off-site faculty and students. She began to holding monthly meetings at community sites to help facilitate a more direct line of communication between the ESL Department and the community instructors. She brings all of her insight back to the department meetings where solutions are discussed and implemented.

Another passion of Colleen's is her Citizenship students. She holds monthly meetings, outside of class time, to help review and prepare student citizenship applications. She attends meetings at USCIS to stay informed of any updates to the citizenship application process and she listens to her students as they express their fears and apprehension regarding this life-changing process. Her work with this student population has given her a stronger appreciation for those who want to belong to and be a part of this great country. She is constantly in awe of their determination and unfailing patriotism.

Additionally, Colleen has been helping to edit the low level EI Civics lessons. This work has given her a voice in the development of important curriculum for our students in the lowest level of the learning ladder. She is also a member of the PLC (Professional Learning Community) that meets monthly at CEC. The PLC promotes collaborative learning among instructors of all levels and works toward the common goal of improving student outcomes. Colleen encourages her students to be lifelong learners. She treats each one of them with dignity and respect and frequently reminds them "we are all in this together". She gives them confidence and praises any small accomplishment that is achieved. She takes great joy in following her students' progress and watches with awe and pride as they continue on their educational journey.

Colleen lives in Orange with her husband, Michael. She has two daughters, Emily and Molly, who are out in the world making it a better place.

Creative Expression Award

The Creative Expression Award honors a faculty member whose prose, poetry, audio/video, artistic creations including dance, music, theatre, and/or photography has added to the current body of knowledge in her or his discipline and brought recognition to the institution or resulted in other noteworthy benefits by being published, exhibited or performed.

Jodi P. Coffman, Ed.D

Professor, Kinesiology

Jodi knew that she would be a teacher from an early age. Watching her mother light up around the preschoolers she taught brought her so much joy. The presents of thanks she received at Christmas time because she was so loved by her students. This is what Jodi wanted to emulate, to feel the joy of being around students. Over 45 years ago, her mother started a kindergarten class in Iwakuni, Japan before Jodi was even born. She was an innovator, educator, and Jodi's role model. Jodi's Dad would tell the story of how her mom, this blond, stood out in a "foreign" world. He felt the same way when he found out Jodi was to teach at Santa Ana College. Not knowing anything about the college, he worried about his blond haired, blue-eyed baby girl moving to this "far away" place. However, when he would visit for the first time he understood, just as life comes full circle. Now, 14 years later, Jodi loves being a faculty member, and feels at home.

Jodi has taught in the Kinesiology department for 14 years, while also in the Study Skills and Counseling departments. She is a unique individual on campus with multiple areas of interest, making her a valuable member of the institution. She participates on various committees including department work, the Distance Education Advisory Group, and the Academic Senate, and has a particular love for teaching online. She is in the process of receiving her @one online teaching certification through the Chancellor's office this month.

Another love that Jodi has is teaching in the Study Skills Department, helping students learn how to study effectively. She started teaching Study Skills 091, Effective Study Techniques, in 2004. Over the course of 10 years, her ideas developed into the authoring of the Study Skills Workbook: For Student Success Across the Curriculum. All students (not just those enrolled in the study skills classes) can learn strategies to navigate the learning environment, while educators can utilize the lesson plan format of the workbook. She hopes that educators can apply and incorporate the Exercises on the various study skills topics, which can help students to develop these skills within their own curriculums of expertise.

Student and educator success are the main goals of this workbook. Student success has always been at the core of her teaching. So, in writing the workbook she also hopes to connect that with another goal of the workbook, which is to serve as a means for collaboration for educators. Jodi has learned that this relationship is fostered through a true sharing of ideas, openness to new ways of thinking, and building on each other's ideas to build a foundation for student success.

Professional Achievement Award

Honoring faculty whose contributions have enriched their fields of teaching, their professional organizations or their communities, bringing recognition to themselves and to the college

Yolanda Garcia

Professor, Librarian

Yolanda has been a Librarian for 36 years, and she has been a Santa Ana College Librarian since November 1985, when library collections were searched via the use of a card catalog and hardbound indexes. “We’ve come a long, long way since then!”

A reference librarian at heart, she has provided almost three decades of quality reference services and instruction to SAC students, staff and the community at-large. She believes in, and is proud of her profession, and she is grateful that it and the Santa Ana College community are a major component of her life. “This is by far my favorite assignment and the reference desk area is the environment I am most comfortable in”.

As the Public Services Librarian Yolanda works with, and provides support and assistance to full and part-time Classified Staff of the Circulation and Periodicals Departments. She serves as library liaison to the Human Services and Technology Division, provides library support for the accreditation needs of various vocational programs, and has served as Co-Chair of Standard II-C, Library and Learning Support Services for the past two SAC Accreditation Self-Studies.

For close to 20 years she has Chaired the Library Technology (LT) Program, a vocational degree, and certificate program. During the course of her time with Santa Ana College she has taught LT 101 Introduction to Library Technology to beginning students of the program, and LT 053, Library Internship, the capstone course of the program.

As a Teaching and Learning Committee member Yolanda has coordinated the efforts of the SAC Book of the Year initiative since its inception in 2009. In an effort to promote college-wide literacy across academic disciplines, interdisciplinary collaboration, and a sense of community, Santa Ana College officially adopted an annual initiative called: The SAC Book-of-the-Year Program. As coordinator of this program she has worked collaboratively with the Teaching and Learning Committee, the Nealley Library, college students and staff, and the community-at-large to promote Book of the Year annual selections and college wide programs and activities.

“The greatest pleasure I receive from my job comes from interacting with students. It is our student body’s overall flavor and distinctness that I enjoy. Many of our students have overcome many obstacles yet they all come to learn. Each student is different, and each one has their own story. From the library’s perspective, each student has a different level of need. It is this variety in the student body composition that makes my job so very interesting and challenging”.

Innovation Award 2014

The Profiles in Excellence Innovation Award honors a faculty member who demonstrates excellence in the development of superior projects or activities which supports instruction, strengthens counseling and improves awareness of a program.

Glenn Doolittle and Madeline Grant:

Glenn Doolittle and Madeline Grant have been working together since 1996 when Glenn was hired to develop the international business program at SAC. Since then they have focused on developing programs in their disciplines that will help students identify and pursue successful career pathways.

They began with the international business program, almost twenty years ago. With the help of federal grants they along with their amazing team of adjunct faculty have grown this program into one of the largest and most successful programs at a community college in the United States. After completing the SAC IB program, students are prepared to become Certified Global Business Professionals (CGBP). Many of the IB faculty are CGBPs including Madeline, Gabriel Shweiri, Randal Long and Lynn Stewart and some are also certified CGBP trainers. The SAC IB program is an accredited CGBP training program.

In 2008, they created a National Association of Community College Entrepreneurship award winning Entrepreneurship & Innovation program with the help of the RSCCD Youth Entrepreneur Program and the district Small Business Development Center. Several years ago they completely revised and updated the Marketing and Management programs as well.

Innovation in the Global Business and Entrepreneurship Department means venturing outside of the Business Division to collaborate with colleagues across the campus. This department effort has resulted in the creation of an Automotive Business Technology Certificate and the latest “venture” is the creation of a fully online business boot camp for CTE and Fine Arts students. The “Freelancer” classes and certificate which will launch online this fall.

“While we are honored by this award, we must share it with our colleague, Gabriel Shweiri. He has brought new ideas, energy and enthusiasm to the department for which we are most grateful!”

An Overview

The Rancho Santiago Community College District has evolved into a comprehensive multi-college format, serving a population of more than 600,000 residents in Central Orange County. The two-college existence of RSCCD was born July 1, 1997, when the former Santa Ana Campus returned to the name of Santa Ana College, and the Orange Campus became known as Santiago Canyon College. The multi-college structure also includes the continuing education facilities in Santa Ana and Orange, a Garden Grove Center, the Business and Industry Services Center, the new Marketplace Educational Center, and a multitude of convenient locations throughout the district.

RSCCD students enjoy the benefits of quality of instruction in a personalized atmosphere that fosters numerous opportunities for learning. Approximately 3,000 classes offered each semester support associate degree and certificate programs that lead to transfer four-year colleges and universities, gainful employment, and many additional avenues for personal and professional enrichment.

Our commitment to excellence has its foundation in the quality of our professional faculty and staff, who provide the opportunities for students to realize their fullest potential, RSCCD is extremely proud of its tradition in providing the finest educational programs and services for our students, offering a comprehensive selection of educational service to the communities we serve.

A progressive institution serving a steadily expanding student population, RSCCD now enrolls more than 25,000 students in college credit program, and more than 20,000 in continuing education classes for adult learner. Nearly 7,000 residents enroll in non-credit Community Services seminars and workshops, and each year approximately 500,000 individuals participate in activities held at our college facilities
