2019 Fall Professional Development Week
August 19 to 23, 2019

Join us for Fall 2019 SAC Professional Development Week Workshops!

Theme: Information Competency

According to the Association of College and Research Libraries' Information Literacy Competency Standards for Higher Education, information competency (or literacy):

"…forms the basis for lifelong learning. It is common to all disciplines, to all learning environments, and to all levels of education. It enables learners to master content and extend their investigations, become more self-directed, and assume greater control over their own learning. An information literate individual is able to:

- Determine the extent of information needed
- Access the needed information effectively and efficiently
- Evaluate information and its sources critically
- Incorporate selected information into one's knowledge base
- Use information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- Understand the economic, legal, and social issues surrounding the use of information, and access and use information ethically and legally"

Presenter(s): Doolittle, Glenn

8/21/2019 from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM
SAC A-207

Survey Code: 1658

Description:
We will discuss the concepts in a very interesting book called Consumed: How Markets Corrupt Children, Infantilize Adults and Swallow Citizens Whole, by Benjamin Barber. Here are two quotes we can discuss- "If manufacturing needs rather than goods is a primary task of consumer capitalism, however, the massive advertising and marketing budgets are understandable." "In higher education and elsewhere, the commercializing ethos of infantilization encourages and is encouraged by a political ethos of privatization that delegitimizes adult public goods such as critical thinking and public citizenship (once the primary objectives of higher education) in favor of self-involved private choice and narcissistic personal gain."
