

SANTA ANA COLLEGE

DRAFT

Santa Ana College Professional Development

Purpose:

Santa Ana College provides Professional Development opportunities for faculty and staff to create a variety of learning opportunities that help us individually and collectively improve student success. Santa Ana College's Professional Development is organized at the program, department, and college levels. A team of leaders meets every semester to coordinate and plan offerings.

Offerings/Participation:

Professional Development opportunities are available year round with predictable high-intensity internships prior to the start of each semester. Please see the summary of Professional Development activities that were held during the 2013-2014 years (on reverse). The approximate number of faculty and staff that participated in Professional Development learning activities over the past year is included in the summary.

Evaluation & Program Improvement:

The college gathers input on Professional Development learning opportunities directly by conducting evaluations of individual activities and workshops, by gathering related feedback on surveys and in the evaluation process, and by having college-wide conversations in college council and at special Professional Development planning meetings convened by the Santa Ana College President.
