1. Summary – What can you share with the SAC community about this conference. Provide your takeaways and the impact they will have on student success/equity.

The management of threats on campus requires a multi-disciplinary team approach. The training highlighted the necessity to integrate law enforcement, academia, mental health, and technology partners to effectively and efficiently combat threats. Reviewed updated information and research in the following areas regarding threat assessment: CSUF Management of Threats, Understanding Gun Violence Restraining Orders, the differences between free speech, hate speech, and threats, electronic access control as part of a comprehensive campus violence active shooter program, an introduction to involuntary celibate extremism, and a school's response to a mass shooting off-campus.
