

DSPS Workshops for April-May 2019

Learning Disability Assessment Question and Answer Sessions

Presenter: Mark Turner, Learning Disability Specialist, Associate Professor (714-564-6269)

Frequently asked questions:

- What types of learning issues can be assessed?
- How long will the testing take? How soon can I begin the testing process?
- I get very anxious when taking exams. Can I qualify for accommodations?
- After my testing, would I qualify for a math course substitution?

Attend a 30-minute session in the DSPS Office, VL-204:

- Wednesday, March 27, 2019 from 2:00pm - 2:30pm (DHH services available)
- Wednesday, March 27, 2019 from 4:00pm - 4:30pm
- Tuesday, April 2, 2019 from 11:30am - 12:00pm (DHH services available)
- Thursday, April 18, 2019 from 4:30pm - 5:00pm
- Thursday, April 25, 2019 from 4:00pm - 4:30pm
- Tuesday, April 30, 2019 from 11:30am - 12:00pm (DHH services available)
- Thursday, May 2, 2019 from 4:30pm - 5:00pm

You may receive an appointment to begin your Learning Disability assessment after you attend a Q&A Session.

Understanding Your Academic Accommodations to Support Student Success

Presenter: Louise Janus, Learning Disability Specialist, Associate Professor (714-564-6299)

Frequently Asked Questions:

- I have an academic accommodation but not sure how to use it?
- I am a military veteran. Can I get support with VRC and DSPS?
- I have an academic accommodation, is it okay if I do not use it?
- I think I have a learning disability. What support can I get?

Attend a 30-minute session in the DSPS Office, VL-204:

- Monday, March 25, 2019 from 3:00pm - 3:30pm (DHH services available)
- Monday, April 1, 2019 from 3:00pm - 3:30pm
- Monday, April 15, 2019 from 3:00pm - 3:30pm (DHH services available)
- Monday, April 22, 2019 from 3:00pm - 3:30pm
- Thursday, April 25, 2019 from 2:00pm - 2:30pm
- Tuesday, April 30, 2019 from 9:30am - 10:00am (DHH services available)
- Thursday, May 2, 2019 from 1:00pm - 1:30pm

Students who are actively enrolled or interested in receiving DSPS support are HIGHLY encouraged to attend this workshop!